NEW ROAD FINISHED.

Will Be Opened as Soon as Bridge Is Constructed Above the Center.

The selectmen and engineer, David Williams, went to St. Johnsbury Center Friday afternoon to inspect the new road constructed by Edward N. Norman of Barre to eliminate the Bacon and Bowker grade crossings. They found each section of new road well constructed and the earthwork and abutments for the new iron bridge completed. The selectmen have notified the public service commission that the work is ready for their acceptance and they will come as soon as possible to inspect it and adjust some claims for land damages that are still pending.

The railroad company is to construct the iron bridge and it was ordered long ago. It is supposed the iron bridge is ready for delivery and erection at any time now. The crossings will remain open until the bridge is finished and the highways declared open for public use.
